InTouch

“We have been children once and the most important thing in this world was our personal freedom, so no wonder kids close their room’s door when going online. Though it hurts us, parents, we should be extremely cautious not to break the trust with kids! ICS helped me to supervise the traffic, transparently deny harmful Internet content and limit my daughter`s online time.

All of this visibly improved her school performance, she became more time-organized and she got time to spend with parents as well.”

Farther of 12-years-old daughter

“Internet today substituted everything for our children - family, friends, books, games. It is fantastic that now I can control time my son spends on the Internet. Let him be offended, but I see that more time is spend with us and the world shows him more things than sitting in front of a computer would.”

Mother of 15-years-old son
